EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with John Witcher on January 28, 2009.

Claims 26 - 45 are canceled as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Claim 1 has been amended as follows:

1. A method for consciously synchronizing a breathing cycle of a human subject with a natural heart rate of the human subject, the method comprising: monitoring the natural heart rate of the human subject; detecting a transition in the natural heart rate from a maximum heart rate;
providing a first biofeedback signal to the human subject to indicate that the natural heart rate has reached the maximum heart rate;
detecting a transition in the natural heart rate from a minimum heart rate; providing a second biofeedback signal to the human subject to indicate that the natural heart rate has reached the minimum heart rate; and instructing the human subject [, via the second biofeedback signal, an] as to the exact moment to begin inhalation by instructing the patient to begin inhalation upon receiving the second feedback signal and instructing the human subject [, via the first biofeedback signal, an] as to the exact moment to begin exhalation by instructing the patient to exhale upon receiving the first feedback signal, such that the human subject aligns their breathing with the natural heart rate to attempt to achieve consistency in the natural heart rate, wherein the instruction provided to the human subject to begin exhalation is provided by a first feedback type and the instruction provided to the human subject to begin inhalation is provided by a second feedback type.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The examiner's amendment renders moot the 112 first paragraph rejection as well as overcomes that art applied in the final rejection since no instructions for breathing are provided in those references that correspond to that claimed.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
